Miss Guinan is Dry
Leviathan is Wet
Teddy in the Tomb
Following the Fish

YOUNG LADIES and gentlemen that make "whoopie" and believe you are keeping up with the times, consider Miss Texas Guinan, "Queen of the Night Clubs." As she travels to and fro in the night clubs and goes up and down therein, a flood of imitation champagne and synthetic gin flows around her.

BUT TEXAS GUINAN NEVER DRINKS A DROP.

That's why she is queen of the night clubs. Girls that drink will never be queen of anything, except, temporarily, queen of the heart of some young fool, also a drinker.

The United States ran the Leviathan more or less "dry," at a loss.

Private owners are running the big steamer "wet" and will make a profit.

No open bars on the ship, but anything you want to drink served in dining rooms, cabins, etc.

Earnest prohibitionists will protest against a nationally owned ship being changed into an alcoholic conveyance. Protesting probably won't do any good.

Teddy, 15-year-old silver terror, lies in Union Cemetery, Greensburg, Pa., in a vault with deceased members of the Kettering family. That family wants the dog removed. His loving owner, also a Kettering, says no.

If a live terror can dwell among the living, why not a dead terror among the dead?

If, and when, the Kettering family rises in obedience to the last trumpet, it wouldn't do any harm, in fact it would be rather home-like, to have Teddy rise also, and frolic around.

New Jersey enforcement agents saw fish stuffed, actually drunk, in Jacob's Creek. Following the line of fish, they found a distillery.

Why not apply this to meat? Was a crusader killed associated with a dead terror, why not follow the trail to the living and dead? said the whiskey, life is the real criminal.

The country still sympathizes with a "crusader," killed by a deadly terror, destroying towns and killing many. Science proceeds with amazing rapidity, and the return of a comet 50 years hence, but cannot predict the spot where terror on earth will strike. The only hope is in building to minimize the damage.

Washington discusses peace on the high seas with Great Britain, limits on the number of ships to be the foundation of peace.

Check Monopoly

REP. MCCARTHY

For Stricter Control of Utilities

REPRESENTATIVE DENNIS F. MCCARTHY, Cambridge—I have continually been in favor of stricter supervision on the part of the State of public utility companies, for the purpose of protecting the public against excessive rates.

I believe that the best check that can be put on these monopolistic companies is the opening wide of the doors under which the cities and towns can enter the business themselves if they desire to.

Any bill that helps the public in its fight against the power interests will have my support and vote.

Repeal Law

REP. KENNEDY

Give People Weapon of Defense

REP. THOMAS S. KENNEDY, Ward 10, Boston—I believe the law which forces the city and town desiring to go into the lighting business to buy out the present plant, should be repealed, thereby giving the people the weapon of defense against the outrageous practice of these so-called "large holding companies."

Rep. John Patrick Connolly, Ward 8, Roxbury—From the present action it is obvious to what extent power industries go.

REP. CONNOLLY

Amazed at Buying Up of Newspapers

REPRESENTATIVE THOMAS S. SMITH, Fall River—I was certainly astounded to learn that two of Boston's newspapers were bought by the International Paper Company, one of the big links in the chain of the big power interests.

The buying of newspapers in this fashion has a tendency to muzzle news reports on which the very foundation of any and every newspaper should rest.

This is an un-American principle.

MARION ALLEY LOST FAVOR WITH OPERA

RETIRES WHEN IGNORED BY DIRECTOR

By HOMER H. METZ,
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

New York, April 12 (AP)—Marion Talley, Metropolitan Opera singer, was forced into the retirement which she has so gracefully made. International News Service learned on unimpeachable authority today that the Kansas City singer had incurred the disfavor of the powers-that-be in the Metropolitan Opera Company and was "politely" told that she was "no longer needed," after being subjected to the usual "siding process" that always precedes the discharge of the Metropolitan's artists.

The young singer was made a Metropolitan star in 1928 with a maximum of publicity and theatrical fanfare. Before her first season was over, however, according to International News Service information, Miss Talley had lost much of her favor.

Backstage at the Metropolitan, it was said, other singers began to complain that she was "overrated." Eventually, Gust-Charles, director of the company, and other officials, International News Service was told, decided to drop her.

After this her eventual "retirement" was a foregone conclusion.

Giddy Life of Modern Girl Scored by Gould

Joseph F. Gould, director of evening and summer schools in Boston, speaking at the State Federation Americanization conference today at the Clarendon st. Y building, told the club women a subtle change was going on in American homes today and that their part in helping the country should be directed in guiding the youth back to home and family life.

"The attitude of the young people toward home life today threatens national security," he said. "Instead of making youths for the future, we are making them for the present. Not so long ago did the girl of today go to the movies and in mass palaces seeking superficial enjoyment. Our country is today as it was in the South Sea, where she is as home and if Massachusetts children want to do a really constructive work, let them bend their efforts to keep the home sanctified. Teach foreigners to avoid the so-called Hindu cults and Bohemian. Teach them that there are no short cuts to American prosperity."

Mrs. Conley's latest suit, suffering her house on Gaylord st., Dorchester, was entered at the Suffolk Superior Court by Mrs. Mary T. McCann of the State Department of Public Welfare on April 10, and it was alleged that three babies were found lying in two egg crates and on an old market basket. The eldest was seven months. A summons was issued, but Mrs. Conley did not respond to it and they went for her arrest, which was obtained by the police. Since Monday Special Officers Leo O'Neill and John Crimmins of Mattapan division had sought her in various parts of the city and had raided apartments in Chelsea and Brighton without success.

They received information today that she would be found at a store on Washington st. and they went there and she soon appeared.

Why Not Get Married, They Ask Curtis

Washington, April 12 (AP)—"P. S.—Why don't you get married?"

In the hundreds of letters which poured into the office of Vice-President Curtis during his controversies over the social status of his sister and designated hostess, Mrs. Edward Everett Gann, this naive suggestion was found more than once.

The idea always struck the broadly developed sense of humor of the Vice-President, but his only response was a chuckle and an occasional reflection that marriage was one of those things that was easier said than done.

Mr. Curtis and Mrs. Gann will entertain at a reception for the diplomatic corps tonight, one of the few official functions which is not affected by the dispute over her social rank or her status as hostess in the Vice-President's establishment was never at issue.

At the first official dinner which was affected by the situation, Mrs. Gann last night was accorded the same precedence she would have received if she had been the wife of the Vice-President. This was in accordance with the provisions of the executive order which the diplomatic corps when Secretary Simons put an end to this week in the State Department's unofficial social calendar.

PROF. HART'S WIFE HERE VICTIM OF HOLDUP

A story of a holdup by a woman in the Cambridge tunnel was told today, following today by Miss Nora Barker, 19, of Gray Garden West Cambridge, an art student and niece of Prof. J. Goddard Hart of Harvard.

According to the girl the veiled woman bandit had a male accomplice, who later accompanied the girl to the surface of Vermont st. The male accomplice kept informing the girl, she said, that it was all a mistake and would be "fixed up."

Despite the close proximity of a traffic officer, the girl stepped into a taxi and was driven to police headquarters, where she showed $1 from Officer Manuel Pimental, to pay the driver, and then telephoned Prof. Hart, who went to headquarters and was present when she told her story.

According to Miss Barker, she was standing in the Harvard station when the woman suddenly turned and said, "Help me, I'm faint."

The girl aided her into the room and there, she said, the woman pointed her pocket in which she had one hand and said: "MEET MAN ACCOMPICE."

"For that and don't scream or cry out. Take off your coat," Miss Barker said she complied, and the woman looked at her arm, stating she was looking for a scar. Then she took $5 and some silver out of the girl's bag and returned her to the platform where they met the man.

From there the man rode with her to the room and there, she said, she declared, and walked up to the street level to where a traffic officer was on duty.

A "mystery" was revealed in Brookline today when the day-old body of a boy, born to a 19-year-old maid, was found in the home of J. Gardner Coolidge, 24, at 70 Fairmount st.

Medical Examiner Mackie said the body was wrapped in paper in a suitcase when he viewed it, and that he is to perform an autopsy to determine the cause of death, although admitting there was a probability it was born dead.

The medical examiner said the body had been removed to the Brookline morgue pending the autopsy, that he had taken charge of the suitcase, and that the young mother had been sent to the Boston Lyngdon Hospital.

According to the medical examiner, the mother of the child, Miss May Gordon, declared she did not know his father. "A girl only 19 years old is the principal witness," Mr. Coolidge said. "She has been employed as a maid in our home for three years."

Mr. Coolidge and Chief Rutherford Fater conferred at telephone request of the former. Neither would reveal the purpose of the conversation.

'Bhoke,' He Finds a Million! Gives It Up—Still Broke

New York, April 12 (AP)—James Duckett, an Indianapolis youth, wandered from home to seek his fortune. Cold and broke, he was on Broadway wandering where to get a job when he found a check for $100,000—yes, a million, a housewife check, lost by a broker's messenger.

Duckett, who is a directory salesman, delivered the check. He got thanks, congratulations, $20 and the promise of a job.

Sydney, N. S. W., April 12 (INS)—With four missing occupants of the Southern Cross found alive, search today was concentrated for Laird, Keith Anderson, who disappeared while aiding the hunt for the Southern Cross aviators.

First Lady to Add a Touch of Home to White House

Washington, April 12 (AP)—A touch reminiscent of the Palo Alto home of President Hoover is being planned by Mrs. Hoover for the rear grounds of the White House.

Just west of the rear portion of the executive mansion is a group of Italian vineyards, and in the lower formed by these she has directed the placing of a flagstone flooring. Benches and chairs will be arranged in the leafy alcove and here on pleasant afternoons she will find a nook to chat with her friends, work to her correspondence and serve tea.

The First Lady also is expected to devote part of her mornings to the cultivation of an old-fashioned flower garden in the grounds.

Mrs. Hoover spent much time at her 8 st. home in developing the floral beauty of the lawn and she will probably pursue her bent for horticulture at the White House.

Undersecretary Grandi will receive from King Zogu the highest decoration within the Albanian sovereign's power of gift. A series of state banquets extending over a period of three days will be tendered him. He is turn to reciprocate by a dinner aboard the Italian battleship at Durazzo.

STINGER SEES WORLD RULED BY WOMEN

Bangor, Me., April 12—A better world, a kinder world, a wiser world, a world which is moving nearer to religion, the church and to the millennium, was predicted in an address today at the Maine Conference by Dr. William L. Stinger, of Boston University and president at the Copley Methodist church, Boston.

The reason, he explained, is that women will rule the universe in stead of men in the "next great era."

Dr. Stinger called attention to the world-wide emancipation of women and the leading place they are taking in affairs of the world. He declared that man is the symbol of force and that force must be destroyed. "The world is sick of the use of the stiletto of force and is going to try the emotion of love. This emotion is a distinctly prerogative of women."

CARDINAL GIVES FURTHER VIEWS ON EINSTEIN

To the Editor of the Boston Evening American—In the address to the Students Clubs last Sunday, I made some allusion to the theories of Einstein which I characterized as hazy, vague and befogged.

I said that any theory which cannot be clearly and accurately enunciated is unworthy of serious intellectual consideration and that its very vagueness and foginess indicates that—author himself has no clear concept of his question, and that, moreover, since truth is clear, it is reasonable to suppose that the theory itself is false.

I went on to say that I did not care just then to state that it was Einstein's purpose to destroy the basis of Christian faith, but my own conviction was that behind the cloak of the Einstein theory of relativity and space-time, as vaguely enunciated by him, was the ghastly spectre of atheism.

I was rather amused the very next day to see by The Transcript, that my opinion of Einstein's theory was the purpose to destroy the basis of Christian faith, but my own conviction was that behind the cloak of the Einstein theory of relativity and space-time, as vaguely enunciated by him, was the ghastly spectre of atheism.

I was struck more by the fact that he recalled my theory of relativity is not new at all, but that whatever there is in it of scientific value is nothing but a paraphrase of Von Soldner's system explaining the deflection of light published as far back as about 1802.

Moreover, it is claimed with every credible proof, that this same theory, Professor Einstein has borrowed or filched from the works of Professor Reuterthal, published 17 years before, with the very important difference, that Reuterthal is a man of international fame as a scientist, states his theory in a way as to make it clear that there is and must be, a first cause, a "movers immovable," an "Absolute Being," controlling and ruling the relative; whereas, in Einstein's false imitation of Reuterthal's theory, Einstein deliberately leaves out God and, therefore, it becomes now perfectly clear that behind the Einstein cloak lurks in very truth the ghastly spectre of atheism.

Again and again Einstein has been faced with what appears to be clear proofs of plagiarism and absolute philosophic sophistry by the best minds in Germany, and his only answer to them is what he now answers "he is indifferent—it leaves him cold."

This may be Olympian, but certainly not scientific.

When I spoke to the students Sunday I was talking quite without special preparation; but I gave them quite clearly my impression, not yet absolutely formed, that Einstein was not a true scientist; at least, whatever his merits as a mathematician, certainly he was not a real philosopher.

But now, after gathering a host of facts since my address last Sunday, to me it is no longer a mere impression, but a clear conviction that his theory is false in its foundations, plagiaristic in its main statements and atheistic in its tendencies.

I was duly impressed with the picture of Einstein and his excellent and clever wife shown in the Boston Evening American yesterday. But I fail to see what a pretty picture has to do with the facts in the case.

That there is in certain quarters such a heated defense of an unproven, certainly unproved hypothesis, only again makes it doubly clear that what I said to the students was true—their clearest is appalling noisy so as to drown honest criticism.

But that has been from all accounts the Einstein method of answer to all who disagree with him. Very sincerely, (Signed) W. CARD O'CONNELL, April 11, 1929.

CHAPLIN GIVEN TIME TO TALK OVER MERGER

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

Copyright, 1929, by Universal Service, Inc.
NEW YORK, April 12.—Charlie Chaplin will have plenty of time to make up his mind on the United Artists-Warner Brothers deal. The details of the amalgamation cannot be perfected until Harry Warner returns from Europe the first week in May.

Perhaps by that time, Charlie will have a change of heart and will join with the other members of the United Artists, including Douglas Fairbanks, Mary Pickford, Samuel Goldwyn, Gloria Swanson and others. But even if Charlie decides to go it alone, the deal is going through—that much was confirmed by a man on the inside.

Our informant says that Samuel Goldwyn, Joseph Schenck and Nicholas Schenck will leave for New York in a few days and will be here when Harry Warner returns from Europe. Chaplin is opposed to all amalgamations. At the time Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer and United Artists discussed their consolidation, the only thing that stood in the way was Chaplin's refusal to go into the deal—but that was before the day of talkies. Now everything is changed, so much so that even with the enormous amount of money grossed by the Chaplin pictures, it is doubtful if Mr. Chaplin's refusal to join the company will make any difference in the original plans of Warner Brothers and United Artists.

An interesting sequel to the Chaplin argument is the word that several moneyed men in New York wired Chaplin offering to finance him to any amount if he cared to make independent pictures. Nathan Burkan, probably closer to Charlie Chaplin than any other man, and who is an attorney, refused to discuss the case beyond saying that he had planned to go to the coast, but business here had made a trip at this time impossible.

PARAMOUNT pays the stars of the silent drama as obvious compliment by borrowing June Collyer from Fox for the lead in "Magnaolia." June was in the uncertain class when the talkies descended upon Hollywood and for a time threatened the screen life of every player. But a test in the talkies was successful, and later picture proved that stage experience is not always essential.

Mary Brian who was originally slated for the lead in "Magnaolia" has been taken from the cast. That means that either Mary is to have a little more voice training, or Paramount has another picture for her. It seems that through such a phase of changeability that one never knows what will happen next.

CLAIRE WINSTON is in New York. She arrived here a few days ago with Captain and Mrs. Flawcett after touring the country. One of the first persons she called up was her former husband, Bert Lottell, who is playing in "Brothers" at the Lyceum Theater. That doesn't mean reconciliation, but it means that Bert and Claire are amiable enough to be good friends even though they are divorced.

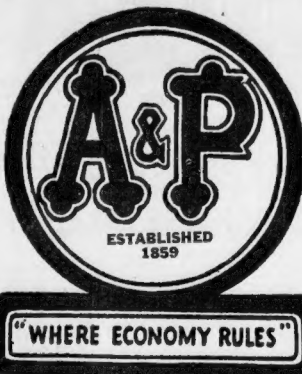

There is a rumor along Broadway that Famous Players-Lasky have been dickering for the screen rights to "Brothers," with the view of producing it with Richard Dix, but the play will probably run for some time if one can judge by the crowded house at each performance. And really Bert should play the dual role on the screen.

FIRST NATIONAL has been in a chronic state of indecision over "A Most Immoral Lady," Townsend Marling's play, starring Alice Brady. In the first place it was purchased for Corinne Griffith, then Corinne decided that the play was not her type. It was then handed to Billie Dove, who wasn't particularly keen about it and who did not feel that she wanted any plays turned down by other First National stars.

SNAPSHOTS of Hollywood collected at random: Gloria Swanson and Count Andrea de Segurilla attending the opening of "The Desert Song" together. Carlotta King taking a bow in a pale green evening gown. Joseph Schenck, Irving Thalberg and Louis B. Mayer guest of the Wampus. John Boles being congratulated for his work in "The Desert Song."

HELEN'S TRIAL NEXT WHOOPEE AFTER TEX'S

New York, April 12 (AP)—Helen Morgan, singer of plaintive melodies and the only woman ever to threaten the laurels of Texas Guinan as the most popular night club hostess on Broadway, will on Monday stand trial on the same charge of which Texas was acquitted.

Miss Morgan, a musical comedy actress, is charged with maintaining "business through sale of liquor" at the Helen Morgan Club, at which she was hostess. She quit the night club business after her arrest last fall.

Texas was acquitted in 64 minutes by a jury of middle-aged men who took only two hours. None had ever been to a night club. The verdict was greeted with cries of "Whoopie!" by spectators, and Texas lavishly distributed kisses among the spectators and jurymen.

She then issued an invitation to all present, lawyers, jurors and spectators, to pass the evening at her new night club.

The "coming out" party, as Texas termed it, was attended by a crowd that taxed the capacity of the club.

Texas, attired in a gown of red tulle and satin with stockings and shoes to match, made her entrance to the dance floor while the orchestra played the "Princess Rose" and the audience rose and cheered.

Mrs. Willebrandt Just Won't Talk About Texas Acquittal

Washington, April 12 (INS)—"I have nothing to say."

This was the only comment forthcoming from Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, assistant attorney general, agent the acquittal of Texas Guinan. Mrs. Willebrandt is credited with inspiring night club raids that resulted in the arrest of Texas, Helen Morgan and others, and with direction of the prosecution.

RISE OF LAKES PLAYS HAVOC

Chicago, April 12 (AP)—An additional rise in the level of the Great Lakes has put the water from three to four feet higher than two years ago.

Lake Michigan, in the third year of an upward swell, has lifted the Chicago river to a level interfering with navigation of harbor tugs under the city bridges and making up sewage flow in the industrial districts.

Midway of a predicted nine-year upward cycle, the lake has climbed three and one-half feet since 1923 and in some places has obliterated beaches along the Chicago shore.

Detroit Rum Plot Involves Wealthy

Detroit, April 12 (INS)—A "babe book" client list, which includes at least one millionaire and the names of scores of socially, politically and financially prominent Detroiters, will be opened at the rum trial of Capt. Joseph Burkholder, accused of being a police department "protection man" for rum-runners.

Police Commissioner William P. Rutledge announced today.

A second man was suspended in connection with the liquor scandal today, Bert. Edward Shaw.

Warner Spell for Boston Week End

The combination of a cold and a New Brunswick with a storm on the Atlantic seaboard, which chilled Greater Boston early today with a sleety drizzle, is to break up within 24 hours in permit of more genial conditions over the weekend.

Northeast storm signals were hoisted from New London, Ct. to Portland, Me., although northern New England is expected to escape the brunt of the offshore storm.

Italian Royalty Enjoys Noted Diva

Rome, April 12 (INS)—Miss Elisabeth Belbin, American prima donna of the Metropolitan Opera Company, New York, had the honor last night of singing before a king, a dictator, innumerable princes and dukes and the whole diplomatic corps.

King Victor Emmanuel, Premier Mussolini and the other notables enjoyed her performance of "The Sunken Bell."

Mikado's Brother to Wed Next Year

Tokyo, April 12 (AP)—The betrothal of Prince Takamatsu, brother of Emperor Hirohito, and Princess Kimikiko was formally announced today with the sanction of the Emperor. The wedding will take place in the spring of 1930.

Prince Takamatsu is serving aboard the battleship Haruna, now at Tientsin. He was informed by radio of the Emperor's approval.

Franz Lehár Goes Into the Movies

Vienna, April 12 (INS)—Franz Lehár, composer of "The Merry Widow," has gone into the movies. He plays the role of a military bandmaster in a film in which the famous Austrian beauty Franziska Goldschmidt is also starred.

Clubwomen Told of Deportation Costs

TEETH were put into the new deportation act, passed by the short session of Congress, which will have American taxpayers millions of dollars annually, Mrs. Anna C. M. Tillingham told the Margaret Brent Civic Guild at the Hotel Buckminster.

"This law, effective May 4, provides for a stiff jail sentence and a fine of $2000 if a deported alien returns after he is sent home," Mrs. Tillingham explained. "It is one of the most effective pieces of legislation ever put into effect. It is retroactive for 60 days prior to May 4, so it is really in operation now."

Mrs. Tillingham was presented to the Guild by its president, Mrs. Frank C. Scanlan.

"We have deported thousands of aliens who were here illegally and had them smuggle themselves back four or five times. The cost of these deportations ran into enormous sums annually to say nothing of the cost of caring for those who require institutional care," she said.

"A recent survey conducted by my office disclosed that there are 8000 unadmitted aliens in Massachusetts institutions which are costing taxpayers over $3,500,000 a year to care for."

There are 1,000,000 aliens here illegally, Mrs. Tillingham further stated, but the cost of deporting them all at once would be a financial burden too great even for Uncle Sam's treasury.

SEPS MEXICAN PROBLEM

"We are sending them back just as fast as we can," she said, "and it is a great help to have this new law with penalty for coming right back in again."

Unless the United States places Mexican immigrants under a restricted quota we shall soon have a Mexican problem on our hands, she declared.

"There is a strong feeling that Mexicans should be placed under a quota law because they are of a different race, with different ideals, standards of living, and environment, and are people who do not really assimilate our national ideals," Mrs. Tillingham said.

"They have not yet been brought to the fabric of our national life and should not be allowed to enter this country in such great numbers."

BIG PROGRAM FOR CONCERT SUNDAY

Final plans have been completed for the concert performance Sunday afternoon and evening in Boston Garden in aid of the $20,000 national "Wide Scope" campaign of the Independent Order of B'nai B'rith.

Aaron Fox of New York, nationally known worker in non-sectarian charity affairs, is here to supervise the production. The proceeds will go into a charity fund to be used for educational and general charitable purposes.

Fox has been a leader in campaigns in which huge sums have been raised for charity institutions of all kinds, including hospitals, homes for orphans and the aged, many of them non-sectarian.

Governor Allen and Mayor McLaughlin have signified intention of attending one of the performances, and former President Coolidge was invited by telegram to be present with Mrs. Coolidge.

TO INITIATE BIG K. OF C. CLASS

With all past officers attending James E. Hayes Council, K. of C., will conduct first degree work on day night at the Columbus Club Pearl and Pleasant sts., Dorchester. The degree is one feature of "Old Times' Night," for which a large remittance has been working for months.

Grand Knight Joseph W. Nolan will relinquish the presiding position to P. G. K. Lawrence J. J. Herney, who is known throughout the State for his work on degree night after the war.

He will be assisted by Robert Tazewell as D. G. K., John J. Mulcahy, chancellor, Walter G. Ambrose, warden, and John F. Dougan, inside guard. All are past grand knights of the council.

An extensive part of which will give a picture story of the contemplated pilgrimage to Rome, and refreshments are additional features.

One of three brothers, all of whom have achieved great fame in the theatrical world, is appearing here this week. He is Jack Sidney.

Jack Sidney, Eastern divisional manager of Loew's, is a popular screen comedian. Sidney, who is heading a colorful revue of 25 people at Loew's State this week, was born and brought up on the stage, being one of Gus Edwards' original Ziegfeld boys.

Later the team of Dehaven & Sidney, of which he was a part, were recognized as one of the smartest of all dance units then in vogue.

The veteran has also appeared in musical comedy, touring many years with "Tip and Down Broadway" and "Etho." However, he prefers vaudeville.

V. A. will be held on the night of Wednesday, April 17.

In all 40 acts of vaudeville, bits of the drama and stars of musical comedy will be presented. More than a score of well-known jazz bands will be on hand. Among the leaders of night club and hotel dance rendezvous appearing are Leo Reisman, Bert Lowe, Karl Rhoda, Myer Davis, Billy Dooley, Joe Rines, Jacques Renard and many more. "Youth Units"—What Marvelous Good Fortune—
"Youth Units" are food elements that, when eaten regularly, have the amazing power to rebuild and rejuvenate living cells. Only foods which contain the essential vitamins and the vital mineral salts—soluble iron, calcium and phosphorus—are capable of keeping cells young. Many people are prematurely, because their diets do not include a sufficient amount of these cell-rejuvenating "Youth Units."

The richest of all foods in "Youth Units" is milk—except for pure ice cream, such as Fro-Joy. And the new Fro-Joy 2-flavor pint package contains three times as many "Youth Units" as a pint of milk!

twelve years of age, inclusive, being eligible for membership in the Junior Division, and children ranging from 13 to 18 years of age, inclusive, in the Senior Division. You are hereby invited to join this club.

The Lindbergh Club enrollment blank will appear in the Boston Evening American every day. All that is necessary to become a member is for boys and girls to fill out the membership enrollment blank, giving full name, address and age upon same. Each enrollment blank is to be accompanied by ONE PENNY—that constitutes the membership dues in this popular club.

Upon receipt of the enrollment blank and penny, the boy or girl sending it or bringing it in to the Boston Evening American office, at 3 Winthrop Square, automatically becomes a member in good standing.

Upon receipt of the blank and penny a membership card, decorated by an airplane resembling the "Spirit of St. Louis," in which made his famous transatlantic flight from New York to Paris, and bearing the name of the club member will be sent by mail.

The first names of members of the club will be published on Friday, April 12. Enthusiasm of the membership card entitles the holder to submit a brief letter on the subject, "What Lindbergh Means to Me." These letters will be judged by a board composed of men and women prominent in public life and in aviation. This board of judges will select the twelve best letters from the Boston American Lindbergh Club members, six from the Junior and six from the Senior Division.

The twelve children so chosen, accompanied by one parent or guardian of each boy or girl, will go to Washington, D. C., under competent supervision of the Boston Evening American and as representatives of the Boston American Lindbergh Club.

To Washington they will carry a silver replica of the Spirit of St. Louis—a gift to the great aviator from the Boston American Lindbergh Club. This silver airplane replica is to be called "The Spirit of New England Boys and Girls."

The fortunate boys and girls who are chosen to represent the Lindbergh Club will be taken on a

In addition, the 12 boys and girls and their escorts will visit numerous public buildings, see Congress in session, and be received by the President of the United States. What more could you ask, boys and girls?

Every boy and girl in New England, regardless of race, religion or color, is invited by the Boston Evening American to join in this great event. No child is too poor or too rich to become a participant.

Gov. Allen Happy as First Lindbergh Club Member

Governor Frank G. Allen, chosen today as first honorary member of the "Boston American Lindbergh Club," is accepting this honor.

"The Boston American Lindbergh Club appeals to me strongly. Every boy and girl in New England should join. Col. Lindbergh is a fine, manly fellow. We all admire his courage, ability and modesty. He represents all that is best in American manhood and should be the ideal of every boy and girl in the country."

"He appeals to the imagination of child and adult alike as no other man in this generation has. We all idolize him. I think it is fine to give boys and girls of New England an opportunity to honor him. It gives me pleasure to be an honorary member of this club."

see Colonel Lindbergh. Many of them, never will, but all of them by being members of the club which bears his name will feel close to him and should receive, and it is hoped will receive, the urge to better themselves after him and live up to the standards which he maintains.

Colonel Lindbergh is and the instigator of this club. Although he is not a member (there are children as active members) it is in honor of him because of the inspiration his name will bring to every child who is a member of it.

In order to foster the interest of the club members in aviation, boys and girls will be taught by diagram and by lecture how to make model airplanes that will really fly. Members of the club will have an opportunity to hear and see many noted heroes of the air, who will talk thrillingly of their experiences. Every boy and girl who is really alive will want to join in these events.

In addition there will be other great surprises full of thrill for the members. Too much need not be told today of the plans that are in the making for the pleasure of the members of the Boston American Lindbergh Club. Just watch the daily announcements in the American after you join the club and you will be kept informed of the good things in store for you. Remember, watch every day.

ANOTHER SIX DAY STORY

by CHARLES G. BOOTH

Six-Day Novel by a Famous Author

Gail Hollister, sent to Colonel Coniston, a collector and owner of the famous Coniston emeralds, to tabulate his treasures, sees Kerry O'Neil, a handkerchief over his face, holding up two men in a car. Later she meets Coniston, sees the jewels, and goes to bed. The men Kerry tried to hold up are Jewels Gail and his father, diamond merchants, who sought to buy the emeralds for $300,000. Kerry had an interest in the gems and thinks the Gills have them. He is mistaken. Gail finds Coniston dead. Kerry appears. She knows he will be suspected. She persuades him to flee.

Detectives question Gail. Kerry hides on the beach. He confesses his love for Gail. They both think Coniston was slain by Stark, a nephew, whom both the housekeeper and Gail had seen in the moonlight near the house. Kerry in secret insists on coming to the house to investigate.

Further evidence seems to show that Dimity, the colonel's confidential servant, was the slayer.

CHAPTER 5

MRS. WESSELS was waiting for Gail at the top of the summer-house trail.

"Is there any word of Mr. O'Neil?" Gail asked.

"There isn't, Miss O'Hallister. Bartlett has been looking for you, though. 'Opping mind, 'is is, 'is."

Gail rushed to her room and gathered a few belongings and started, but Decker had his hand on her. She had to go back and she heard the key locked in the door. It was four thirty; she had promised to meet Blondy at five. Just then a roadster driven by a young man stopped by her window, the driver hopped out and left the engine running.

Gail swung out the window, dropped 15 feet, made for the car, jumped in and roared out of the driveway as two bullets whizzed past.

She would park the car in the cypress grove. Her pursuers would never think of looking for her there.

She shot the roadster into the grove clearing. Then came the roar of a powerful engine.

A streak of black whizzed past. It had gone. Blondy's coupe rattled into the clearing.

"Well," she said with a grin, "you beat 'em to it."

"Jump in," she exclaimed. "The sooner we get to the Crocodile, the better. They'll come back quick."

Behind a big desk at the Crocodile sprawled a man. "Lo Jim," Blondy said casually. "Meet my friend, Red Burns."

Jim Beasley engaged her after a talk.

Blondy began to tell Gail something of her married life, with Kessler, of the brutalities of the man.

"If I'd had a man like that Kerry O'Neil of yours to love!" Blondy said, "things might have been different!"

"It was dark now."

"Eight o'clock, Red. Time to do up."

She produced an evening gown for Gail.

Blondy directed Gail's attention to the booths as they passed in to the big dine and dance room.

"You and Nick will park in one of them tomorrow night," she said. "I'll fix it so that I can get the one behind."

The Green Crocodile was deserted. Beasley passed into the kitchen letting the door swing to. Gail's hands fell to her sides.

A man was washing dishes at a sink. He was Kerry O'Neil.

A cigarette, coolly, deliberately she took from her mouth and she got up at dawn and wrote down stairs.

Gail waited a path to the edge of the cliff.

On the top was an outcropping of rock. A man sat there with his head in his hands.

"Kerry!" Gail said gently.

His head came up with a jerk. "Gail! You've got to 'ave me what you are doing round the dump!"

She smiled reproachfully. "I've got a better job than you have, Kerry."

"I saw you dancing. What are you doing here, Gail? You've got to tell me!"

Gail smiled. "Can any one see us?"

"No."

"Kiss me and then I will."

He looked at her with his old grin breaking out all over his face. "Golly! Do you mean it?"

HOUSE KILLS NEW AUTO TEST BILL

The Curious Quizzer

Every day he asks a question and pictures those questioned.

THE QUESTION
Do you think co-presidents should be permitted to serve as ex-officio members of the Senate with a salary of $25,000 per year as proposed by an Ohio senator?

GEORGE GARDNER, 41 Edison Green, Dorchester This proposal seems to me a very excellent one. The fact of an ex-president of the United States has always been a problem. When he leaves office he is prepared to serve his country as no other man can, and yet there has never been a niche for him in politics. As an ex-officio member of the Senate the benefit of his years of experience in government and administration.

ELIZABETH FESTE, 1203 Bennington st., East Boston The country would undoubtedly benefit by such an arrangement. In fact, the government could afford to pay the ex-President more than $25,000 a year. His value increases during his term in office, and when he is through his services are more valuable than they were before. I do not think his salary should be so sharply cut.

The Senate help problem is solved by having a salary of $25,000 per year as advertised daily in the Boston Evening American.

PETER CHAPMAN, 17 Bond st., Dorchester—By all means. The President of the United States represents the entire nation while he is in office, and in order to strengthen the dignity and power of his position there should be a place in the administrative side of the government into which he could step as soon as his term is over.

THERESA DEMATO, 43 Church st., Lynn, No. When the President has gone out of office his interests naturally turn to his own State and legislative measures affecting his home State favorably and the Supreme Court's opinion, thus giving this State a disproportionate representation.

Girl Tourist Held as Shoplifter
Beautiful and fashionably dressed, Miss Elsie Webster of Whitwell st., Quincy, who claims to be a tourist from Sweden, was placed on probation in the Municipal Court today after she admitted taking a bouquet of violets and hosiery from a department store. Through an interpreter she admitted shoplifting but asserted she could not explain her action.

RAP JUDGE BACK TRIAL

Criticizing the trial judge for indicating his opinion to the jury, the full bench of the Supreme Court today sustained exceptions of the Federal National Bank in a suit against Thomas J. O'Keefe, a note of $500, which the jury decided in favor of O'Keefe. The trial judge was President J. McLeod.

"A careful study concludes us to the belief that the jury must have received the attitude and bent of mind of the judge and in all probability entered upon their deliberations in a state of mind which was biased and in-revered."

The parties to an action are entitled to a fair and unbiased presentation of the testimony to the jury, without indication of the opinion of the judge upon the weight or effect of the evidence, or as to who should prevail where a material fact is left in doubt by the testimony, save as such indication may flow from a clear analysis of the evidence.

Violet Hahn Wins as "Miss Revere"
Miss Violet Hahn, 14 daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hahn of 47 Mill st., Revere, today carries the distinction of being officially Revere's most beautiful girl. She was selected by Mayor Andrew A. Chase as the winner of a beauty contest conducted by the Revere Athletic Club at Spanish Bader.

8-Wheel Radio Auto to Speed at 400 Miles an Hour

London, April 12 (AP).—C. Ambrose Villiers, young British engineer, is reported to have completed the design of a motor car that he will take to Daytona in 1931 with a guaranteed speed of 300 miles an hour and a theoretical maximum speed of 400 miles. For the first time wireless will be used for steering, but the details are kept secret. The engines will have 3000 horsepower and the car will be fitted with eight wheels. WOULD GIVE REGISTRAR TOO MUCH POWER, IS CLAIM

After sharp debate, the House today on a standing vote, 73 to 83, killed a bill under which operators of motor vehicles would be required to take re-examinations at stated intervals.

Representative Cabell of Kentucky, leader of the opposition, and the registrar has power enough now and that such a law would mean that the number of examinations would be increased fivefold.

"There is too much regulation of our personal lives," he added. "Nevertheless, particularly, over-regulation of the motorist."

Representative Shattuck, for the bill, said Parker thought re-examinations every 10 years would be sufficient.

Representative Tamm of Lynn warned the members that if the Boys and Girls of New England!

THE BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN LINDBERGH CLUB

Join

Twelve boys and girls—with Mothers or Daddies, will have a de luxe trip to WASHINGTON to present the gift!

THE PLAN

Every boy and girl in the six New England States between the ages of eight and eighteen years is invited to join the Boston American Lindbergh Club.

All you have to do is fill in and mail the enrollment blank on this page with ONE CENT. Your penny will go toward the purchase of a silver replica of the "Spirit of St. Louis" to be called the "Spirit of New England Boys and Girls" and to be presented to Colonel Lindbergh as a wedding gift from you and your fellow members of the Club. There will be no other fees or charge of any kind—nothing to buy. This penny which goes toward the purchase of Lindbergh's gift is ALL you pay for membership in the Boston American Lindbergh Club.

When your enrollment blank is received you will be enrolled as a member of this great club of New England boys and girls. Your red, white and blue membership pin and your membership card (with your name written on it) will be mailed to you.

Then your name will be printed in the Boston Evening American—the first names will appear in the Boston American on Friday, April 19th—Patriots' Day.

You will be entitled to all the advantages of membership in the Boston American Lindbergh Club.

This is ALL You Have to Do to Join the Boston American Lindbergh Club

1. Fill out and send in the enrollment blank on this page together with ONE PENNY, which will go toward the purchase of a wedding gift for Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh.
2. Watch for your name in the Boston American where you will be listed as a member of the Club.
3. You will next receive your personal membership card with your name written on it and you will also receive your membership pin.
4. Your membership entitles you to send in a note telling, in your own words, "What Lindy Means to Me." Your note will be read by a Board of Judges including famous aviators and public officials.
5. If your note is one of those selected you will have a free trip to Washington—a glorious vacation with your mother or your father. You will shake hands with President Hoover, you will visit Congress, and you will go to the Smithsonian Institution where you will see the original "Spirit of St. Louis" in which Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh made his heroic flight.

THE PURPOSE

The purpose of the Boston American Lindbergh Club is to give the children of New England an opportunity to show their affection for Colonel Lindbergh and their appreciation of his wonderful achievements by presentation of a suitable wedding gift to him.

In addition it will be the purpose of the Club to foster intelligent interest in aviation among the boys and girls of New England.

The Club has been named after Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh because he represents to all, whether men, women or children, those ideals to which we should aspire, and because in him is personified courage, ability and supreme modesty.

Some members of the Children's Club will see Colonel Lindbergh; many will not, but all of them, by being members of the club which bears his name will feel closer to him and should receive the urge to pattern themselves after him.

Colonel Lindbergh is not the creator of this club. Although he is not a member (none but children are) it is named for him because of the inspiration his name will bring to every child who is a member of it.

Every boy and girl who belongs to the Boston American Lindbergh Club will have a chance to make a trip to Washington accompanied by mother or dad.

Twelve boys and girls, each accompanied by a parent, will make this trip to Washington as the representatives of the Boston American Lindbergh Club. They will present to Col. Charles A. Lindbergh a suitable token from New England's boys and girls. The twelve representatives will be selected from the writers of the best notes on "What Lindy Means to Me." The judges will consider the notes in two groups, those from boys and girls between the ages of 8 and 12 years inclusive will be judged separately from the notes written by boys and girls from 13 to 18 years of age inclusive.

Join Now! Send in this enrollment blank!

To Parents and Teachers:

In connection with the Club, the Boston American will publish aviation articles of interest to boys and girls. These articles will be written by competent authorities and will contain educational and instructive material on this fascinating subject. Parents, teachers, boy and girl scout masters, boys' and girls' clubs throughout New England are invited to join the activities of the Boston American Lindbergh Club.

Smith and Ruffing
Starting Pitchers
Real Garden Row
By NICK FLATLEY

THE batteries will be Bob Smith and Pat Collins for the Braves in Boston, Charlie Ruffing and Charlie Berry for the Red Sox in New York. That's how they'll start the season Tuesday.

Don't let anybody tell you that there isn't plenty of baseball interest in this village just now. We are right on the edge of the largest spring in years. The flock of the Braves, Worcester today, watching the Braves tackle the Crusaders.

Good weather will mean a full house at the Fenway tomorrow, and a huge mob at the Wigwam Sunday. The winter year brought the minds of former fans. They want to see what it's all about.

They want to discover that by starting a baseball discussion any time now.

The Sox are back with Bill Carrigan actually optimistic. The Braves came home with Henry Gowdy and Johnny Evers making no claim, but muttering "just wait and see us."

Years since two Boston teams started off with the proper spirit. No first divisions or pennants have been claimed by either, which is another good sign. The early outpourings will surprise the oldest inhabitants. All will be well if it is so.

Teams can live up to a few hopes. The athletes come from an old and true.

All set to play the stars: They hang right into each other.

They'll never be the same.

A REAL fight is on at the Garden. One of the ring wars has called a grudge battle. Al Mello, the battling child from Lowell, hooks up with Joe Dundee, world champion water-winger. It is not a skunk for the crowd.

It is not a skunk for the crowd. It is not a skunk for the crowd. It is not a skunk for the crowd.

Mello, a great fighter, believes he is a champion. So do the contenders, who don't want any of him. Al knows they have to take him. Al knows that property placed haymaker this evening means a lot of fame and money.

Dundee realizes that a clean decision over the Lowell warrior will call off all the knockers. "It is possible in these modern ring affairs there has been plenty of fighting this week, but this should bring the boys out just the more."

Jimmy Collins, New York columnist, remarks: "The Ryder Cup golfers will keep in shape going after the 14th hole on the Vero Beach course in 14 miles long."

8 ROOKIES FAVORED BY RED SOX

By JOE CASHMAN

Eight rookie members of the Red Sox were released to the Pittsburgh club of the Eastern League today, according to an announcement made by Secretary Hy Mason.

The players released are: Ed Connelly and Gordon Shashan, pitchers; Henry Borman and Joe Cicero, infielders; Huey Harmon and Frank Busby, pitchers; and Carl Sumner and Harry Oboje, outfielders.

Carrigan Thinks He Has Pretty Good Ball Club

Master William Carrigan, who always makes it a practice to tell the truth or keep his mouth shut, thinks his 1929 Red Sox are a pretty good ball club.

He has told us so just before sending his charges onto the field at the Fenway today for the final workout in preparation for the game with the Braves tomorrow and Sunday.

"My squad," began Bill, "is in the best shape I recall the season of any I have had since returning to the club in 1927. Questioned as to his starting lineup he answered:

"I haven't decided as yet on the battery for the opening game in New York, next Tuesday. I will use Ruffing, Gaston and Morris and all my catchers against the Braves. Then, I will pick the bats for the opening."

"The rest of the lineup I have settled on," he continued.

NOTHING LEADS OFF

"Rothrock will play center and lead off. Rhyme will be at short. Flanagan in left, Scarritt in right. Regan at second, Reeves at third, and Todd at first. They will go to bat in the order named."

He then even granted that the club will get out of the cellar; he repeated, "because I know nothing of the opposition, but unless all the other teams have improved considerably, the Sox ought to make a good showing." Then, as he started to leave, he admitted, "It certainly looks like the best club I have had since my captaincy."

Crusader Spring Practice Postponed

Worcester, April 12.—The first football practice for the candidates for the 1929 Holy Cross Crusade will be postponed because of the poor condition of the field.

Hub Soccer Club Sold to Sportsman and Star Goalie

Boston's American pro soccer league club has been sold to Jud Griffin, Providence sportsman, and Willie Harper, internationally known goal tender. Harper, until this deal was consummated, was with the Fall River eleven, the former player with the Edinburgh Rhinoceros.

When given the chance to get in on the ownership of the Boston team Harper was considering going over to the Bethlehem Club of the Eastern Soccer League, which is the rival organization to the American circuit.

With contemplated changes in the playing roster of the Hub team accomplished, the Boston will have an eleven capable of battling the best on even terms.

RUTH TO RETIRE WHEN HE SLIPS

Atlanta, April 12 (INS).—Baseball fans will never be subjected to the sad spectacle of Babe Ruth, King of Sox, staggering around base, tripping over his own feet, moving up fly balls and falling victim to the wiles of pitchers.

That is the lowdown from the Barnburner himself today. Ruth was emphatic, almost dramatic, in making it clear that he will never be asked to quit baseball, the game which has helped so much and which, in turn, has made him one of the richest professional athletes in the world.

Ruth's statement came in answer to a report indicating that the Babe is on his last legs and may be shelved pretty soon.

"They'll never have to ask me to quit. I'll beat 'em to it, just as soon as I feel like it. I'm slipping too much to be any use to myself or the New York Yankees."

Springfield Plays Tufts Tomorrow

Springfield College will play Tufts College baseball team, opening the home season for "Red Brown and Blue" team at the oval tomorrow afternoon.

The Tufts infield seems to be settled with Fitzgerald at first, Phillips at second, Kelleys at short, and Leonard rounding out the infield. Ray Oboje is sure of his position in left field.

The two veterans, Ellis and Herrmann, may find themselves on the bench Saturday, with other Tokey, Frank Ingram, Godfrey or Lupian replacing them.

The club charges Dempsey had signed to fight Harry Wills, then a contender for Dempsey's heavy weight title, and that the champion refused to go through with the match.

Chicago, April 12 (AP).—Are the Cubs already in the National League championship? At least one fan thinks that was the intent of signing over a check to President W. L. Veck for 50 tickets.

CHAMPION 10-9 CHOICE TO DEFEAT AL MELLO

By JACK CONWAY.
AL MELLO and Joe Dundee will punch out the question of title supremacy when they battle in a 40-round bout at a monster charity boxing show at the Boston Garden tonight.

Dundee, as champion of the welterweight division, will probably go to the post a 10 to 5 favorite in the betting department.

Mello defeated him in a torrid battle at the Garden in January. The public always leans to watch the title holder.

The rival war is in the best, possible condition, and it is expected that the contest will be replete with thrills.

Dundee's title will not be at stake, as Mello has agreed to weigh in above 147 pounds. The champion, however, is under contract with the Garden to defend his championship at the Garden in June. Mello will get this chance in the event he comes through with a victory this evening.

Joe Dundee, chairman of the Pennsylvania Boxing Commission; John Scott, New Jersey Boxing Commissioner; and John Chapman, Commissioner of the Nevada Boxing Commission, will be among the notables who will attend the bout.

The profits of the show will go to the Boston Benevolent Club and the Children's Hospital. A lot of times organizations have been active in aiding the sale of tickets for tonight's show. As a result, leaders in the social and business life of the city will be centered around the ring when Mello and Dundee whirl into action.

Harvard Meets Catholic U. in Windup War in South

KETCHUM HOPES FOR CHAMPIONSHIP

Harvard Nine Shows Power in Southern Trip Tilt; McGrath Lynch

Washington, D. C., April 12—Harvard's ball team closes its annual southern trip today when the Crimson nine faces Catholic University here.

The Crimson aggregation has been hit for six days now and will be directly after today's tilt with the New York team if the Columbia's tomorrow afternoon.

Three games were scheduled for this afternoon. Ketchum, in luck, Richmond in grand fashion on Tuesday and Coach Mitchell is counting on another Harvard victory today. Mitch will probably start Eddie McHugh again.

Columbia in the last game of this year's spring trip. The meeting of this Harvard club in the South has been above expectations. The team of unknowns from Cambridge has developed into quite a ball club and will be rated on par with the leading Eastern college nines. In its early games Harvard has hit heavily and the beauty of it is that the boys who were carried as weak hitters are now the leading hitters of the entire club.

Ben Ticknor, Jim Dudley and Sam Patchelder were regarded as great fielders but weak hitters when the team first came to the South. Now this trio is right up with the leading hitters in the team.

The individual all-around star of the trip thus far has been John McGrath, the sophomore from Providence. McGrath has averaged a .35 average in three games, and his playing has been flawless. He undoubtedly is the best ball player on the club and has shown a complete reversal in his pre-season showing.

Kid Chocolate in Go With Bushy Graham

New York, April 12 (AP)—Eligio S. Serrano and Angelo Ceraulo were Kid Chocolate and Bushy Graham—clash at Joe McEwen's New York Columbia in 15-round bout tonight, which should see one of the elite eluded winners of the bantamweight picture.

Indications are that neither will attempt to make the class limit of 118 pounds.

Chevalier, defeated in his short career, rules the better favorite at 15-5, but the odds are not too far from even, expect the Cuban negro to end Graham the toughest man he has ever met.

Voigt, Eliminates Finlay in Golf

Providence, R. I., April 12 (AP)—Charles Voigt, New York, today defeated Finlay, New York, in a 36-hole match.

The annual New York and South Golf Tournament, which was held at the New York Country Club, today saw William C. Voigt, Jr. of Providence, defeat Richard Wilson of Southern Pines, N. C., three and one to win the right to meet Voigt tomorrow.

had his opponent in a bad way, but much more the title holder failed and was battling back in the last two frames.

Dundee has been guaranteed $5000 for his title defense here in June. Mello, McLarnin, Fields and Thompson have been named as possible opponents, but it's a 50-50 shot that the chance to win the title will go over to Mello.

Supporting the welterweight title fight, Eddie Mack has arranged one of the finest preliminaries of the season. George "Wop" Manolian of Dorchester will make his return to the ring by knocking Charlie Anthony, the hard hitting Newark boy, who recently defeated Jack McVey. These rivals meet in a 15-round bout.

Butler Brown of Baltimore makes his first appearance here tonight. Frankie Moore of the North End in an eight rounder. In addition, there will be three six-round events. Eddie Platt of the North End meets Joe Tavelieri of the North End, while Sam Chernoff of New York faces Joe Hartford of Philadelphia and Tommy Daley of the North End.

Bisch on Psychoanalysis and Divorce

By L. E. Bisch, M.D., Ph.D.
Famous Authority on Health and Psychology

NOW and then one reads in the public prints that psychoanalysis has been employed to prevent divorce—and with success. That such cases are fairly numerous it is not hard to believe, for a course in psychoanalysis makes people see themselves as they really are. After which satisfactory adjustments in the love-life are much easier to accomplish.

And, of course, when certain traits and habits of the one get on the nerves of the other, then man and wife begin to think a mistake has been made, that they are not suited to each other, that a divorce may be best in the end.

But, to consult a psychoanalyst, and to disguise the individual's true nature. Nature has a way of fixing up little difficulties in a marvelous manner. A seemingly bad marriage start may easily change into a lasting happy union.

But if the newlyweds cannot make the adjustments no matter how hard they try nor how patient they may be, one with the other then analytical psychology should have the opportunity of pointing the right way, a way that lies in the opposite direction from the divorce court.

The same may be said of those couples who, after 15 or 20 years of comparative bliss, gradually realize that they are getting on each other's nerves.

This beginning adjustment period is not necessarily the time, now or later, to consult a psychoanalyst. Nature has a way of fixing up little difficulties in a marvelous manner. A seemingly bad marriage start may easily change into a lasting happy union.

Jeritza on Care of the Hands

By MARIA JERITZA

ARE your hands a problem to you at this time of year? Between seasons it is, indeed, difficult to keep the hands and fingers in beautiful condition.

The situation is not as hopeless as it may seem at first. Resolve to give your hands, wrists and nails the systematic care—few moments each day will be sufficient if you do not skip a single day or cheat in the matter of half-hearted attention.

Wear gloves on the street conscientiously. This will prevent your hands from chapping, freezing and burning. Fabric gloves for everyday can be washed out a few moments and nowadays they are tailored and smart—as well as comfortable. Warm gloves are also easily laundered.

Wear loose gloves of thick cotton while you garden. This is especially important if you hope for presentable skin.

Loose cotton gloves are also a boon to the woman who likes to dab in paint to express the colorful joy of spring. If you stain your hands, remove the paint with turpentine. Then scrub hands and nails thoroughly but gently with warm soap-suds made with pure white soap. Rinse them with clean, cool water. Dry them carefully, pressing back the cuticle with the towel, and finally rub in an abundance of your favorite hand lotion.

Here is mine: Glycerin 1 ounce. Rosewater 2 ounces. Benzoin 6 drops. A favorite perfume oil 6 drops. I suggest that you visit this lotion yourself at home. The proportions of the various ingredients used should vary according to the season of year and your own type of skin.

Martha Lee Tells of Egg Desserts

IT is the easiest thing in the world to pass off a dessert with an air of being of the hand and consider it of no particular importance. Yet when one considers the minerals and vitamins derived from the fruit, the energy that comes from the sugar, the protein and starch which it contains from the rice, flour or eggs, it is surprising to note how really valuable in food value it may be.

APPLE CUP CUSTARDS
Heat 3 egg yolks slightly and add 1/2 c. sugar, 1 tbsp. lemon juice, 1/4 c. of apple sauce, 1 c. milk and 1/2 tsp. nutmeg. Fold in 3 stiffly-beaten whites, pour into custard cups and sprinkle nutmeg over top. Bake in hot water and bake in a slow oven, 325° F., for about 40 minutes or until set. Serve cold.

FAITHFULTY YOGURT
MARTHA LEE.
"Yogurt is golden" is truly spoken of. Chilled Yogurt makes a most delicious and healthy dessert.

APRICOT SANDWICHES
Slice bread and then cut it round with cuttle cutter, having 18 rounds. Beat 2 eggs slightly and add 1/2 tsp. salt and 1 c. milk. Dip bread in this and saute in butter until a golden brown. Put 1 slice on each of 8 serving plates, spread with apricot puree made by forcing stewed apricots through a sieve, cover with the other slice and place a thin slice of orange, cut crosswise, on top.

PEACH WHIP
Drain syrup from a No. 2½ can of sliced peaches, and measure. Add enough water to make 1 cup. Add 5 tbsp. sugar and 1/2 c. minute tapioca and cook in double-boiler until the tapioca is transparent and clear. Add the sliced peaches and cook a few minutes more. Cool slightly, add vanilla and fold in the stiffly-beaten egg whites. Serve very cold with a creamy soft custard or plain cream.

FIG TARTS
Soak 1/2 c. pearly tapioca over night in cold water. In the morning, drain off the water which has not been absorbed. Re-soak 1 1/2 c. minute tapioca in double-boiler, add the soaked tapioca and cook 30 minutes or until transparent. Add 3 slightly-beaten egg yolks and 1/4 c. brown sugar and cook until thick. Then add 6 preserved figs cut in small pieces and let cook a few minutes longer. Cool slightly, then fold in the stiffly-beaten egg whites. Serve cold.

From ENGLISH ovens in America comes the delicious English "biscuit"

ENGLISH biscuits! A delicious memory of tea-time in England. Biscuits made of milk and honey and enriched with such flavors as custard, chocolate or maple. But they need no longer remain merely a memory. For now English bakeries have been set up in America. Out of their imported ovens and traditions, out of secret famous dainties from father to son, are coming the famous dainties that the English call "biscuits." You may buy them at your grocery store... fresh... for no more than you pay for ordinary cakes or cookies. Ask for Weston's English Quality Biscuits.

Think Twice Before Marrying Once

By Beatrice Fairfax
MARRIAGE decisions wisely are not easy, especially in youth when judgment is immature. "Dear Miss Fairfax," writes "Some months ago I was introduced to a very nice young man. The third time he was in my company he told me he loved me. 'I told him I was too young to think of getting married, for he spoke of marriage.' But this was not quite the truth. The reason was, he was too quiet. 'He has a very good job. Although only 23, he has two boys. One has a house on it. He said he would build the most beautiful home on the other. He also has money in the bank and a car. 'I thank you for the kind advice you have given me through letters to other girls. I hope the advice you will give me now will help others also. 'VIVIAN.' Your letter does not give the impression of selfishness. Vivian, but rather that of practical, thoughtful consideration of your problem from every angle. Marriage resulting from such careful, kindly forethought usually are happy. From the fact that you feel you could "stand to care," I believe you are more fond of him than you realize, and your mutual fondness for children should be a strong bond between you. Copyright, 1923, International Feature Service, Inc.

Onions à la Borden Peel and cook onions in boiling water until tender but not broken, adding salt just before cooking is completed. Drain and place a layer of onions in a buttered baking dish, sprinkle with ground cheese, and cover with 1 cup white sauce. Repeat. Cover top with fine bread crumbs. Dot with bits of butter and bake in moderate oven until crumbs are lightly browned. White Sauce—Melt 3 tablespoons butter in skinned, stir in 3 tablespoons flour, 1/2 teaspoon salt and dash of paprika. Pour in slowly 1 cup Borden's Evaporated Milk, diluted with 1 cup water, stirring until the mixture is smooth and thick.

'THE RETURN OF OLD KING BRADY'; FAMOUS DETECTIVE STORY

Sophie! Your men can kill Captain Thunderbolt and take her away!"

"We can try."

"Gimme the gold. I take you into Death Valley!" cried Luke, with sudden energy, and he held out his hand.

Old King Brady dropped the gold piece into it and said as he did so, "You get another, Luke, if you stick by us and help us."

"I stick by Miss Sophie," said Luke.

Luke went outside and sat down again on the bench. Old King Brady tried to draw Durne out further, but it was little use. He then called Moss, Buck, Hollow and some of the others together and explained the situation to them.

Most of the men were willing to risk the White Death. So the old detective went about his arrangements quickly. Those men who did not wish to go were ordered to remain at the entrance to the canyon.

said. "If you are not disturbed, I will return, and if I find things and we don't return, get over to Tinsley and tell what has happened here."

With Luke in the lead the party started down the canyon, skirting the base of the mountains for a mile or so. Luke led them up to the side of the mountain by a winding trail until they came to a level stretch where there was a thick growth of trees. Pushing on through this strip of forest, they passed through a narrow opening in the rocky wall at its end which was so small and so winding that no one would have guessed that it led anywhere in particular.

Luke, however, knew better and a few moments later had led Old King Brady and his party out into a narrow valley which appeared to be a long wall back among the mountains.

At some distance ahead a thick white mist could be seen hovering low upon the ground.

"Look! The White Death!" cried Luke. "Now we must wait. We are in Death Valley, but we must wait for the mist to rise. A few minutes later he said: 'The mist is lifting.' Looking toward the 'white death' Brady could see that it had risen to a height of some 20 feet above the ground.

"How long does it hold that way?" he asked Moss Mefford.

"Not more than 10 minutes. Then them hot springs get bubbling again, and a new lot rises, with him will be lowered, and gradually the other young men will grow to know you also, and you will be no more a 'persona grata'—one who counts.

My advice to all girls in first to make themselves beautiful to look at and dainty and soignée—that they suggest everything delicious to the subconscious mind; then to polish their modes of expression, and try to be refined in language and manner; and, lastly, to be clever enough always to tell the truth, and never 'put over' any sham.

No sham lasts, and the bitter disillusion is one of bitter disillusion.

You know in your own homes. Flora and Katie, how often, perhaps even disagreeable, member of the family is respected and relied upon, and another perhaps despised, though sweet—all because of palavering—using useless words to camouflage a truth.

Be direct and exact—you won't regret it.

What joins with what is there already, and it all drops down heavy on the ground again."

"Order a move at once," said Old King Brady. "We must make the most of our chance."

"Come on, boys," said the detective. "We shall soon see!" And with these words Old King Brady strode on in advance and reached the bend in the rocky wall which bounded the valley on their right before the others came up. Removing his hat, he peered around the corner of the rocks.

At the same instant the sharp report of a rifle rang out. With a startled exclamation, "King Brady pulled away. 'Quir!' he cried. 'It is now or never! They have just shot one man and my partner's turn comes next! Mervel! I'm afraid it is too late to save him as it is.' Back to the horses they flew, and the order to advance was given."

A case in point is that of the child above. In good faith we tested his capabilities. After no little trouble we found he was absolutely deaf.

But after that there was no doubt in our mind that he would become a musician. So we purchased the necessary equipment and sent him home, where he belongs.

The ungrateful parents, with never a thought for the child's future, made him stop training and—what is worse—refuse to pay us our customary fee. We try to be patient—but if there is any more unreasonable opposition we will find it impossible to continue our helpful service, and no amount of teasing will do any good.

'BUGS' BAER SAYS—

By ARTHUR 'BUGS' BAER THE White House doctors are agitated over Mr. Hoover's ability to shake hands during White House receptions and still retain his scoliotic complexion.

On Thursday, April 4, Mr. Hoover shook hands with 1700 assorted constituents. A goodly number.

Is Mr. Hoover a President or a pump-handle?

Everybody who goes to Washington wants to see the monument and shake hands with the President.

Would not history be just as well written if they saw the President and shook the monument?

What does shaking hands with any prominent man mean?

That you are gladder to see him than he is to see you.

A handshake like that can mean nothing.

You don't expect the President's heart to be in his cuff, do you?

You must admit that shaking hands with the President is a good way with cash money at 12 per cent.

We saw Shankey and Stripling shake hands down at Miami at the start of their fight.

It was the last time that evening that either one led with his right.
